TSS and the Spanish Flu

In 1919, TSS was in complete lockdown, isolated and banned from outsiders, due to the world wide Spanish Flu epidemic that was to kill over 19 million people worldwide.

The boys had to cancel their mid-winter holidays and nobody was allowed in or out of TSS for 2-3 months.

No TSS student was to contract the disease, and life returned to normal again by the end of that year.